

Joseph Kim

Teacher

Hello, my name is Joseph Kim and I am a science/English/math tutor at Genius Academy. I graduated from California Baptist University with a major in biology and a Master's in Education. As someone who studied both science and education, I know how important it is in your child's education.

I'm currently a middle school science teacher in San Jose. Through my experiences as an educator, knowledge can be one of the most powerful abilities that an individual can have. With knowledge, people can accomplish so many things in life, which is why I want to help the younger generation to achieve their goal.

That being said, STEM is an important field where many people can understand the world, solve real world problems, and prepare for the future. This is what I want to help instill in your students!
